DEDICATION

To Father Kuehn, our new principal, whose spirit is marked by devoted and loyal enthusiasm, which has revealed itself from our earliest high-school days to the present, in service, in courage, in fidelity, and in lofty Catholic idealism, we, the staff of the 1955 Capitol, gratefully dedicate this volume.

Father Riedel's farewell party

On the night of September 22, 1954, all Messmerites paid tribute to Father Louis E. Riedel at a party sponsored by the Home and School Association. In the smaller picture above, (right to left) are Father Riedel, former principal, Joe Dorsey, '42 (master of ceremonies), and Father Kuehn, newly-appointed principal. Pictured at the right are the guests of the evening: some of Father's clerical friends, his relatives, the Sisters, and present and former students of Messmer.

From the family of '55 —

The spirit of Messmer must always echo Father Riedel's name. His loyalty to MHS was the strength of our own personal spirit. Fifteen years of zealous, energetic labor will never be forgotten by the thousands of young people Father served. His kind word to anyone, a deep understanding of youth, his concern for the individual student, and the multitude of thoughtful deeds which were not duties have put Father in our hearts forever. The very things and many occasions which have become traditional at Messmer were inaugurated in large part by Father Riedel.

To Father Riedel — our former principal, friend, counselor, teacher, priest of God — we promise a continued prayerful remembrance. We extend our best wishes for his happiness at St. Francis and wish him special blessings on his work as rector of the minor seminary.

To Sister Marella . . .

There is another tribute we must pay before this year closes — to Sister Marella — who leaves Messmer after six years as Vice-Principal and Superior.

Much of the credit for the smooth running of the school is due to Sister's method of planning ahead. Her capabilities have been proved in the early arrangement of classes and student programs; as a result, there has been no confusion on the first day of school.

Known for her sense of humor, Sister could face the morning office rush with a big smile. One of the graduates remarked, "You can always have a word with her. She is always willing to help. Sister can smooth out troubles."

Many thanks to you, Sister Marella. Our prayers go with you for success and joy in your next assignment.

Reverend
Vernon J. Kuehn
Principal, Counselor

*John B. Kuehn
Kathleen Kuehn*

The world is calling desperately to youth for leadership. Not prosaic, not ordinary, but living, dynamic, spiritual leadership. The problems of the day in labor, government, family, international relations, stagger the initiative and hope of even the strongest.

An examination of the mistakes and failures of the past brings the realization that man cannot go it alone. He needs the help of God to face this struggle for life.

Students of Messmer, you should be happy and grateful that the vision of God in daily life comes into the very atmosphere of your classrooms. What others must seek in Sunday school classes and Sunday sermons, what many search for and find so rarely in the secular press, you are taught as an integral part of school subjects.

To the graduating seniors this philosophy of education gives hope and strength. May God grant you the courage to become the leaders that the times demand. May you never let God down. To the underclassmen it is a challenge. You will meet the problems of the future with the equipment you acquire today. May you never waste one moment in your training for leadership.

Reverend Joseph R. Stehling

Financial Administrator

Problems that would puzzle another man have become quite the routine for our financial man, Father Stehling. We are convinced that an exceptionally jovial spirit is Father's secret for balancing the seriousness of his position and making the two come out in a pleasant life for all of us at Messmer. Be warned: don't get in the way of Father's ready quip!

Reverend James R. Daleke

Teacher, Counselor

Top honors for recording class activities go, without doubt, to Father Daleke. What was once a hobby has become the accepted thing in Father's English and speech classes. Many a student has overcome stage fright and hesitancy in speech because of Father's efforts and experiments. Father also teaches classes in religion and is spiritual advisor of the Sodality.

*God bless you,
Rev. Daleke,
James R. Daleke*

Reverend
Carroll A. Gunther

Director of Religion, Teacher of Religion and Biology, Counselor

A black cassock zipping through the corridor is almost surely to be that of Father Gunther, as he dashes off to one of his classes. Father's genuine interest in teaching is very evident in his excellent class work. The C.S.M.C. claims Father as its spiritual director. A man of many accomplishments, he now gives many hours each week to his pastoral duties as administrator of St. James parish in Mequon. There's never a dull moment in Father Gunther's week.

Reverend Ralph R. Schmit
Teacher of Religion, Counselor,
Director of Athletics

With the welcoming of this school year, we also welcomed Father Schmit as a full-time faculty member. Messmer is by no means new to Father; he has been religion instructor here since 1946. Besides counseling and teaching, he assumed the numerous duties of athletic director. In this capacity Father has tried to unite the student audience with the student team members in an effort to show that both are important in this phase of developing school spirit.

We hope your stay at Messmer, Father, will be happier each year.

COOKS

Busy about many things that make up a good luncheon, these faithful cooks begin work at seven in the morning. In the picture above, left to right, are: Mrs. Hattie Wenzel, Mrs. Mary Leutermann, Mrs. Dora Miller (in charge of the cafeteria), Mrs. Owyndia Pedersen, and Mrs. Sally Fennell.

MAINTENANCE MEN

Not many free moments come into the daily program of our maintenance men. Rooms, corridors, offices, and washrooms get their cleaning every day. Here Mr. Edward Colloton, Mr. Raymond Becker, and Mr. James Vogel remove the pews from the chapel. Their joint efforts make this one of the cleanest schools in the city.

DOCTOR AND NURSE

Dr. Max E. Wiese and Mrs. Catherine Sullivan pay their weekly visit to Messmer and check our health. They make our clinic the scene of much help for students who have been ill and good health advice for anyone who wants it.

STUDENT COUNCIL

Many services are rendered the student body by the Student Council. Social activities, ticket-selling campaigns, elections, are discussed at semi-monthly meetings, and, if approved by the administration, they are presented for the support of the student body. Freshmen and sophomore members do not, usually, initiate activities, but take full part in representing their classes.

GERMAN CLUB

Agnes Heinrich's authentic Bavarian costume aroused the interest of Antoinette Erz, Francis Eibl, Tom Lorsung, Caroline Hahn, and Joyce Majewski (below) at one of the meetings of the German Club. Sister M. Frances Therese guided the club in its program of movies and panel discussions on every phase of German life. In November, members attended the Milwaukee Folk Fair. They also studied the music, art, and literature of the German masters.

LATIN CLUB

Senior and junior members of the Latin Club followed the injunction on the blackboard while President Jeanne Hoffmann read to the group from AUXILIUM LATINUM, a Latin monthly magazine. The Latin Club meets monthly and is under the direction of Sister Antony Mary. All members participated in a nation-wide Latin examination.

PAN-AMERICAN CLUB

On April 14, when Mrs. Charles Stoffel (seated, left) told the club about her trip to Mexico, she wore a beautiful china poblana costume which was admired by Paul Rajski, Charles Stoffel, Barbara Schneider, Charles Beck, and Judy Smith. At other semi-monthly meetings, Pan-American Club members heard speakers from the Phillipines, Puerto Rico, and Guam. A Christmas party was highlighted by a Mexican piñata, an imitation animal filled with candy, prizes, and other good things. Sister M. Verola is the advisor of the club.

RIGHT OFF THE GRID

Fifty-five varsity candidates posed a problem when Coach Bob Regent and his assistants, Dick Romanski and Norm Domach, began pre-season drills. With spirits high, the Bishops looked forward to a prosperous season.

In the first game, the Bishops lost a tough contest to Notre Dame, while Pius and St. Catherine's also got the nod.

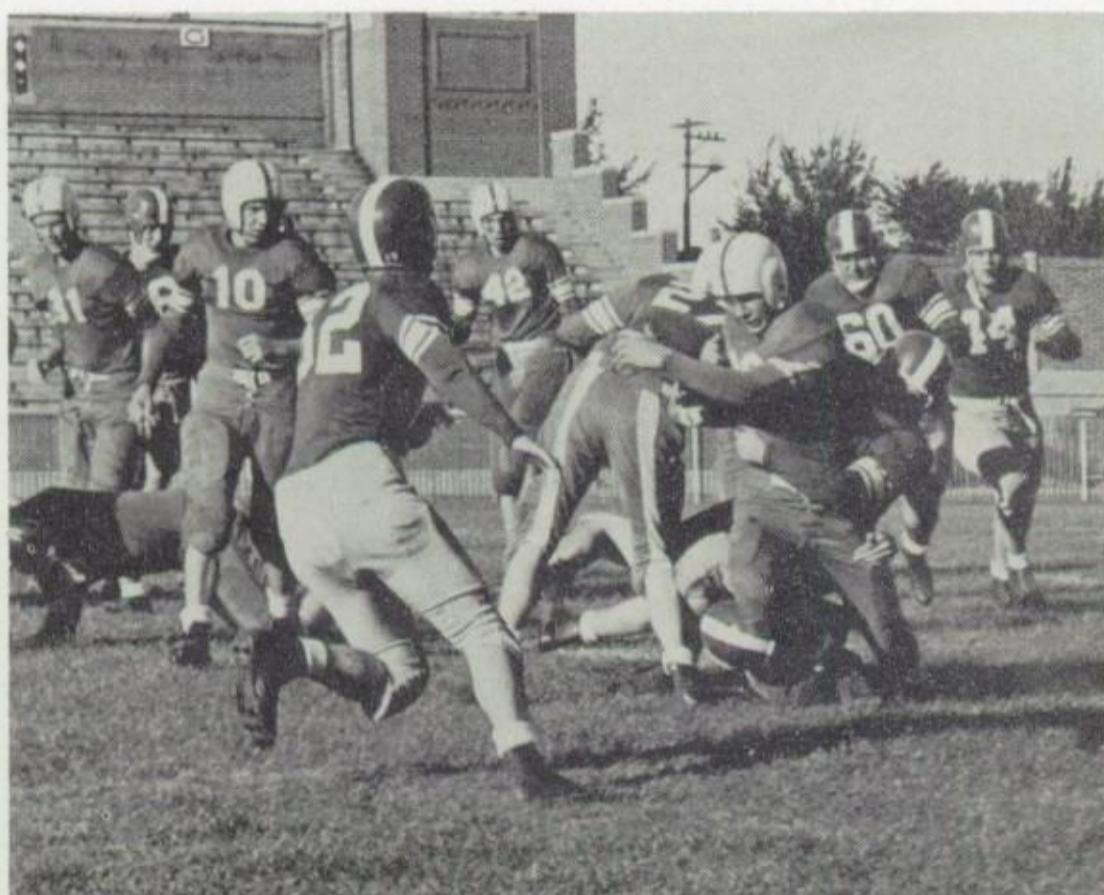

Fighting for every yard on a slippery field was not enough when our team played the Junior Hilltoppers, who took the game at 31-0.

Messmer picked on the Dons for one of their better games. After a quick touchdown by the Dons, Gene Kealty racked up an 89-yard jaunt and then scored from the 3-yard line, putting the score 7-6 in the Don's favor. The last six-and-a-half minutes proved to be fatal; four quick touchdowns provided the sudden victory for the Dons.

Fumble-it is (a disease which hits every team at some time) attacked the Bishops in the form of Waukesha Memorial, ending in a 19-0 score.

BISHOP'S BEST

Picked as outstanding football players this season were (standing) Gene Kealty and Bill Duquaine, honorable mention; Jim Aehl, All-Conference, and (seated) Terry Dineen, All-Conference.

REVENGING REDWINGS SLIP BY MESSMER

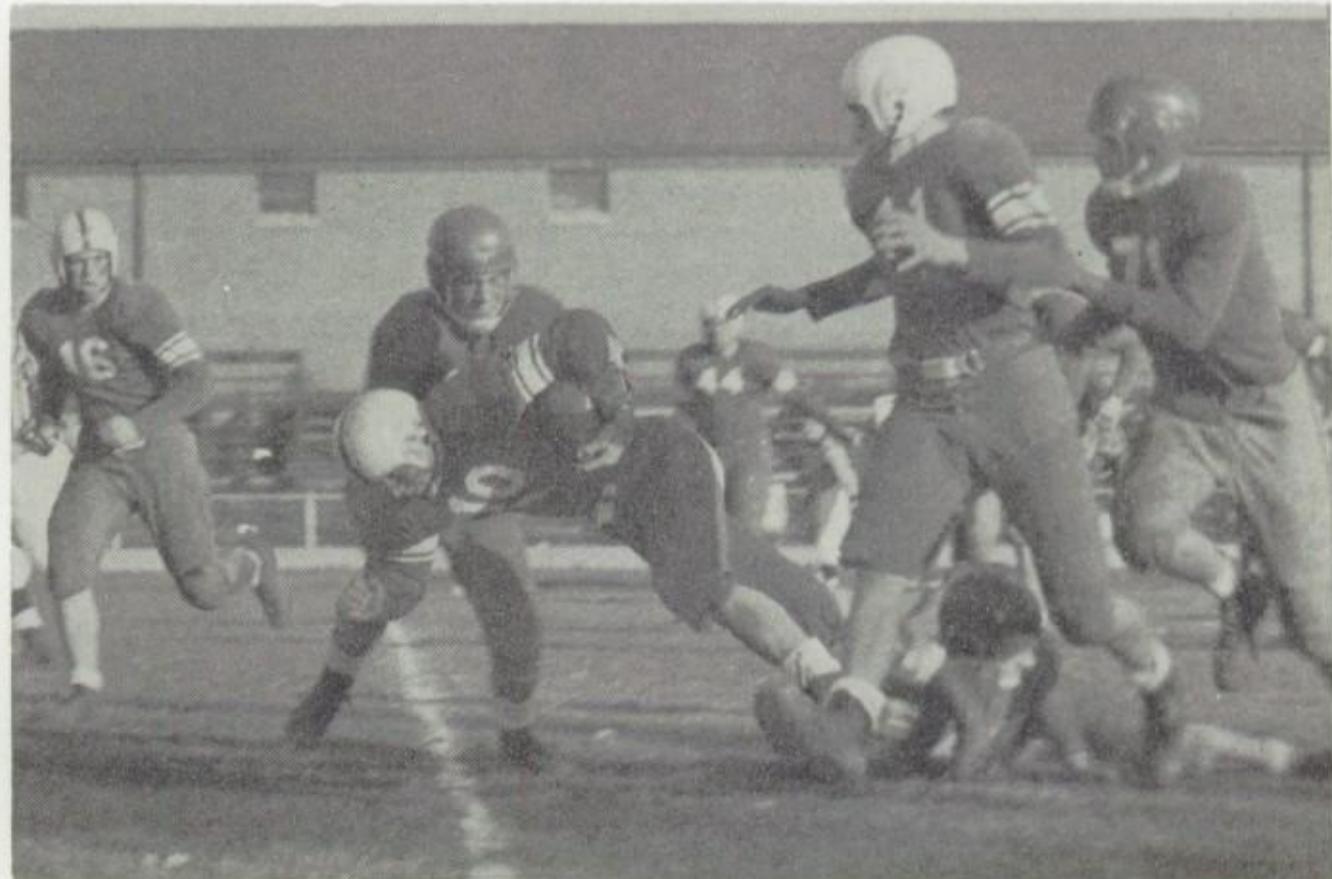

Notre Dame

Gallops by Aehl and Murphy tied the score at 12-12, but the Redwings took advantage of a Bishop fumble in the last quarter and turned it into the game-winning touchdown.

BULLET PASSES GIVE HOMECOMING CROWD FIRST WIN

St. John

Bob Weske passed for three touchdowns to give the Bishops a deserving victory. A sleeper play caught the Bishops off-guard and the Eagles scored their only touchdown, ending the game at 20-7.

ALERT DEFENSE KEEPS BISHOPS FROM SCORING

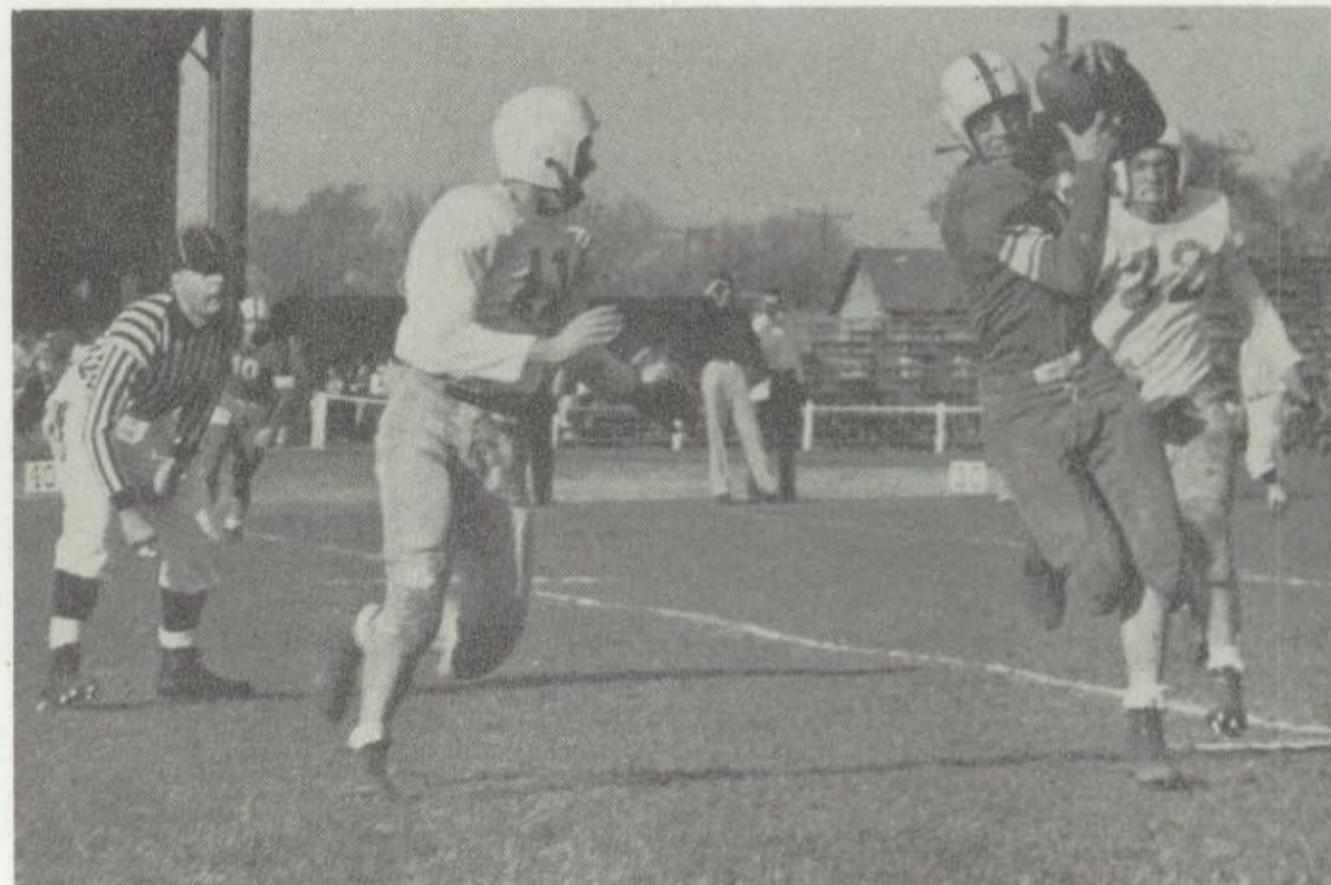

Pius

Second-half sprinting wore down the Bishop defense, leaving the Popes out on the long end of the score, 20-0.

HARD DRIVING ANGELS PICK UP A WIN

St. Catherine

A 57-yard pass play to Gene Kealty gave the Bishops their tally, as the Angels ran for a quick win, 33-6.

Fathers Kuehn and Schmit look over the field at an early fall game.

Many activities go into a successful homecoming

This year's homecoming week was chock full of events. The bulletin board contest exhibited many original ideas as well as expert workmanship. The homecoming dance, which was reigned over by King Terry Dineen and Queen Claudia Thelen (right), was a complete success because so many students attended.

On the field before the game and between halves, Messmer's band (below) played snappy marches and went through some smart formations.

(Left, below): Watchful eyes peered on the field as the Bishops fought to a crashing victory. (Aren't the facial expressions interesting?)

(Right, below): A locomotive choo-choo was the theme of the junior float, pictured here as it moved down Capitol Drive on its way to the field.

CONFRATERNITY OF CHRISTIAN DOCTRINE

One of the newest clubs in school, this one follows directly the injunction of the Holy Father. Every Saturday, two of the girls help Sister catechists by teaching prayers to public-school children at St. James, Lannon. The inserted picture shows (clockwise) Janet Stordeur, Karen Neuzaerling, Ann Guzzonato, Mary Ann Haertl, and Carol Schmidt discussing posters they make and use in their work. No dues are collected, but the girls sponsored a picnic for the children on their last Saturday. Sister M. Anaclete is their untiring advisor.

INTERNATIONAL STUDENTS' CORRESPONDENCE CLUB

Limited in scope of work, but international in outlook, is this group of girl correspondents. Their chief activity is writing letters to students of foreign countries — England, Australia, Canada, Africa, Germany, South America, and Switzerland. In this picture, President Sheila Sworske presides at a meeting. Sharlene Stromberg makes a report. The club's director is Sister M. Nobilis.

CRAFT CLUB

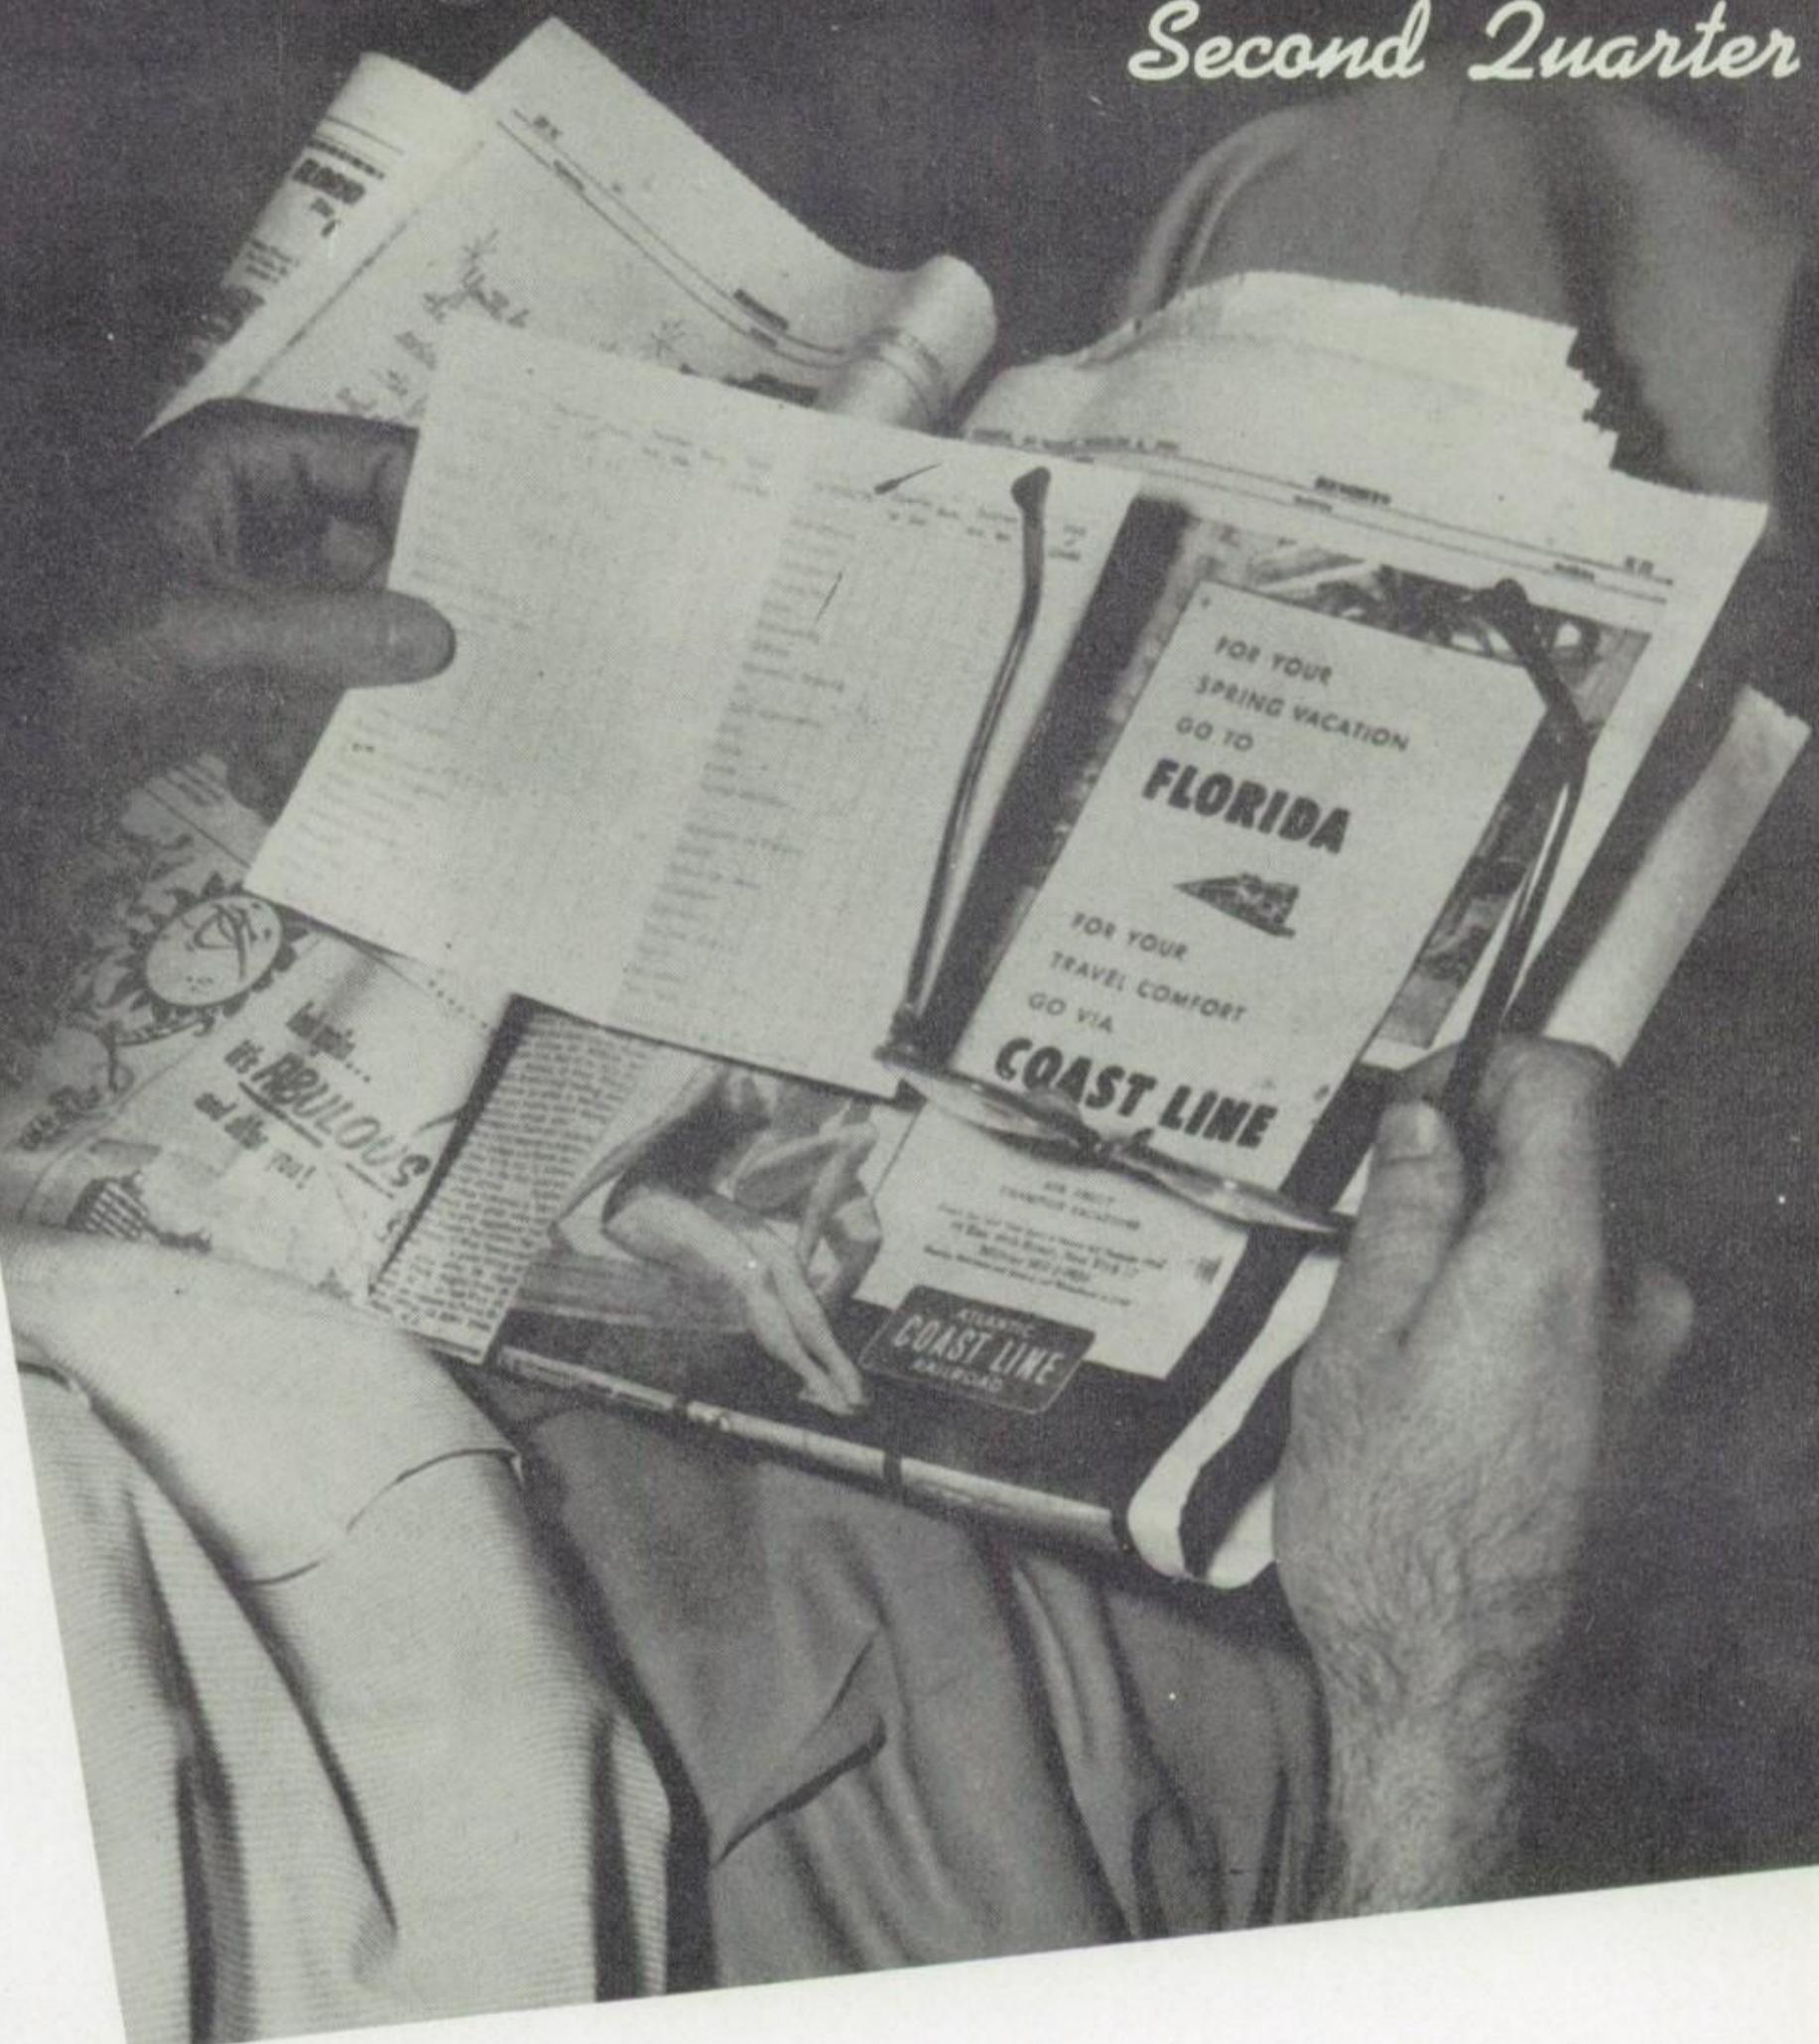

In contrast to the religious-minded clubs pictured on this page, the Craft Club represents the practical "extras" in a girl's life. Janet Sinkovec and Virginia Miskewicz pool their talents for the finishing touches on a little book stand. Sandra Simasko looks over a miniature wastebasket that was once an ice-cream can. Under the guidance of Sister M. Rosalia, the girls fairly burst with ingenious ideas.

YOUNG CHRISTIAN STUDENTS

The laity can do much! Y.C.S. members are interested in student problems (known as the Social Inquiry) and their consideration in the light of Christian principles. As proper motivation they read a selection from the Gospel and decide upon an act of service to perform the following week. Three groups in school work under the guidance of Sisters M. Monica, M. Janet, and Caroline Marie.

This is a heart-warming and fanciful high comedy in modern setting and costume. Mrs. Savage is determined to put her fortune to a noble and unselfish use among social misfits in a sanatorium. Here she finds happiness, away from the realistic world where people do anything for money.

The audience was left with the feeling that somehow the neglected virtues of kindness and affection have not been lost in a world that seems motivated at times only by greed and dishonesty.

Basketball games thrill huge crowds

Mr. Norm Domach took over the varsity squad and the '54-'55 season opened with the team being considered a dark horse in the running.

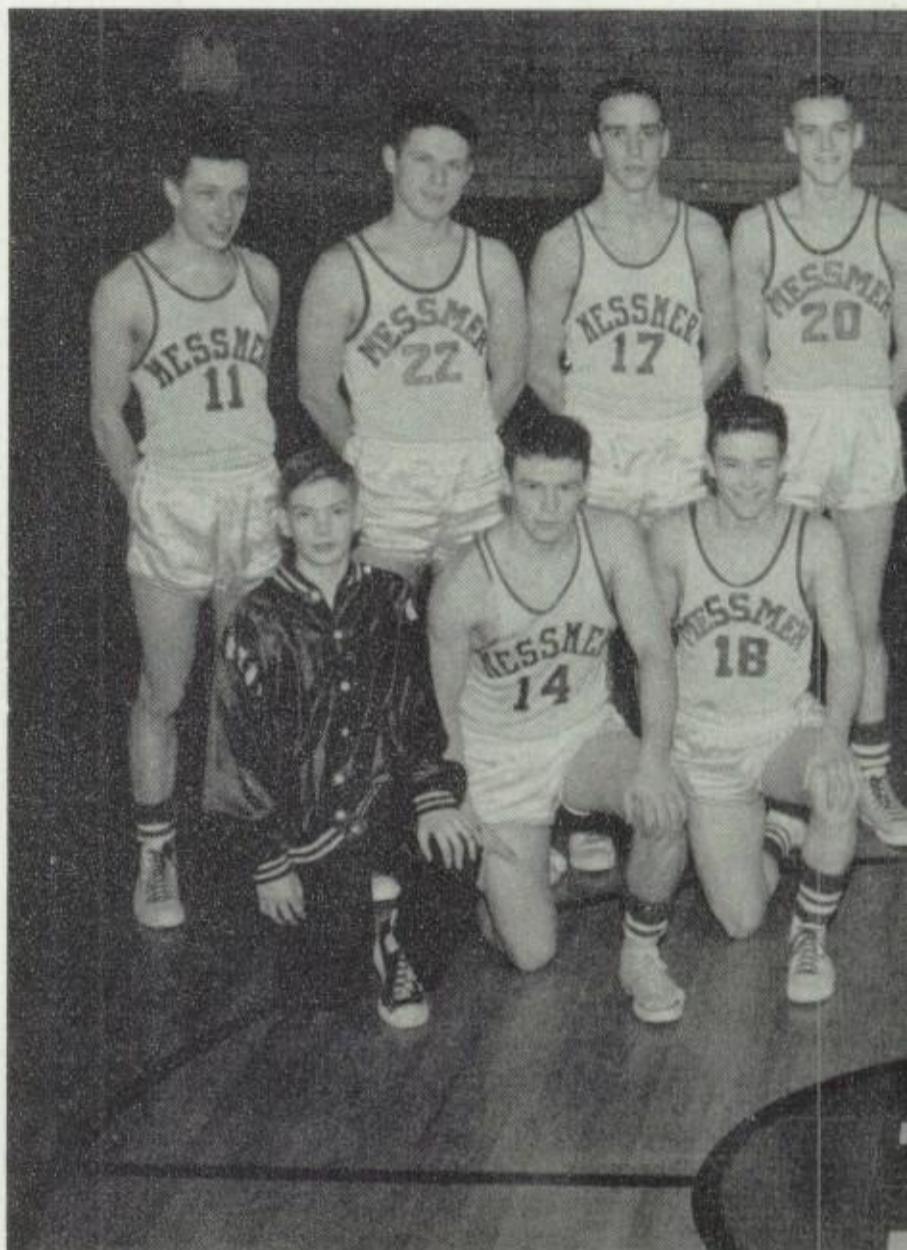

Messmer's arch rival, Marquette, was no match for the Blue Wave as they crumbled under a 22-point spree in the fourth quarter. The Bishops showed fight in every game they played, taking a double victory from St. Bonaventure and a split win over Marquette and Catholic Memorial.

Non-conference games were no trouble to the Bishops, as they posted successive wins over North, Boys' Tech, Riverside, and a close contest with King, leaving the season with a record of 7 wins and 13 losses.

Reviewing the tougher games, Bosco and Pius were the hardest fought of the season. Although the Bishops came out at the short end of the scene, they always retained their poise and spirit.

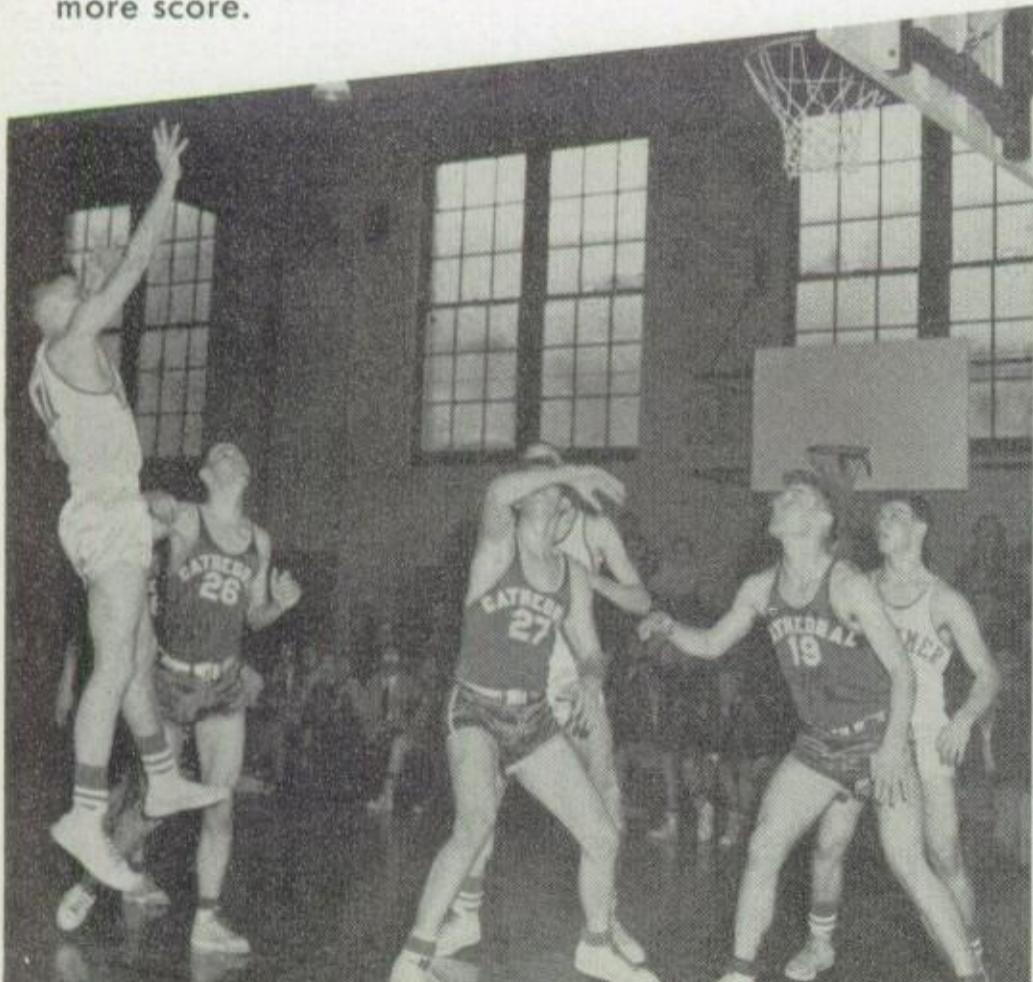

The team play, this year, was marked by accurate shooting and aggressive rebounding, chiefly by Jim Wrobbel who won himself an All-Conference berth. Bill Duquaine, the holler guy, sparkplugging every play, the fancy dribbling of Gene Kealty and Tom Schramka, the push-shot artist, provided many a thrill.

With Coach Regent directing the B-team and Mr. Romanski the Freshmen (the first since '45), the fans can look forward to a team alive with new talent.

Girls pack busy hours into sports

Girls' Sports

To develop those sound minds, which depend so much on sound bodies, class periods in physical education include many different features. Regular calisthenics may be strenuous, but tumbling can provide exercise along with a lot fun. Of course, there is the perennial favorite, basketball, for those who can take a more "violent" form of exercise. Several basketball teams were organized but seemed to peter out, without announcing championships. In February, eight seniors took part in the annual inter-school play day at St. Mary's Academy.

The fine art of dancing finds its place in the program, too. One of the classes specialized in square dancing, studying the many types, forms, calls, etc.

Bowling took a good deal of time from the female keglers. Underclassmen as well as upperclassmen were represented on teams. Mrs. Bartz and Lorelyn Kleiner (the very active president of the group) worked out a schedule which carried right through to loving cups.

To wind up the swim program, a large group of girls presented a water ballet. Performing together to music, they made beautiful formations which were enhanced by colored lights. A few boys helped out in a clowning act.

The nice weather of early spring found some of the girls preparing for the outdoor games — tennis and golf. While the number reporting for these was rather limited, competition was quite keen. (Up to the time of printing this book, no champions had been announced.)

Mrs. Bartz's job is a big one, but senior leaders performed a tremendous task this year again by assisting her in various ways. Taking roll call, keeping sports supplies available, helping beginners in swimming — these were the main tasks of a little group that did their work generously and graciously. Of course, this service gave the girls the opportunity to earn letters and numerals.

Boxing

On March 20 and April 3 the Messmer Men's Club presented the annual boxing show under the direction of Coach Dick Romanski. With flying fists and numerous reddened noses, the boys pounded out decisions which "marked" them as champs. Outstanding awards were given to Joe O'Leary and Jim Murphy in their respective classes. Ed Cincera and Terry Jeffords were singled out as the "fightingest fighters" in a tournament characterized by excellent performance.

Monitors

School monitors comprised of senior and junior boys, are directed by Sister M. Immanuel and assume many duties every school year. Between classes they patrol traffic in the corridors; they usher at plays and special school events. An extra task they assumed this year was to publicize the pre-Christmas Benefit Sale for the new Motherhouse of the Sisters of Notre Dame. Self sacrifice and responsibility are the supports on which the monitors base their excellent service.

ACOLYTES

Every Friday Holy Mass is offered in the auditorium and in the gym. Thursday is Exposition Day; that means Exposition at 9 A.M. and Benediction at 2:30 P.M. October and May bring Benediction services daily. Serving at these religious exercises makes up the regular assignments of the acolytes. All boys at Messmer have the opportunity to be acolytes. Those who serve at the altar of God experience a satisfaction that can be obtained only in the Divine Presence. Unwittingly, too, they are a powerfully good example to other students. Father Gunther is the advisor of this group.

Servers hold main positions in religious events. This one was the Living Rosary in October.

SODALITY

Personal sanctity through devotion to the Mother of God is the aim of all Sodalists, and every Messmerite is a Sodalist. Year-round activities include the weekly guard of honor on Thursdays in the chapel and recitation of the Rosary at Milwaukee's Fatima shrine on the twenty-first of each month. The highlight of the out-of-school program was the Wisconsin Catholic Action Convention in February. Father Daleke is the new spiritual director of the Sodality and Sister M. Ernestine the advisor.

Standing: Mary DeSio, Our Lady's Committee; Catherine Schmidt, secretary; Pat Bruce, prefect. Seated: Pat Fettig, vice-prefect; Father Daleke, spiritual director.

CATHOLIC STUDENTS' MISSION CRUSADE

The CSMC aims to make Messmer students more mission-conscious, not only from the viewpoint of their generous financial aid but also in the way of prayer, study, and sacrifice. Aided by Father Gunther, their spiritual director, and Sister Mary George, their advisor, the student officers have worked hard every week to fulfill their obligations. Their efforts have re-

The CSMC also contributes to various civic benefits; for example, the Community Chest, March of Dimes, American Red Cross.

BRAILLE

Members of the Braille Club work one hour a week, or longer. Their work is "seen" by those who can't see at all. The year's finished products included a number dictionary for John Schuch (now at Marquette University), Rosary Novena booklets for blind retreatants at the Cenacle, Christmas cards and other greetings, and Brailled letters to blind correspondents. Guided by their zealous teacher-advisors, those students do inject a note of cheer into the lives of people deprived of the gift of sight. The lone boy member, Louis Sworske, is now co-instructor. Why don't more boys join this club?

OUTSTANDING STUDENT LIBRARIANS. J. Kolasinski, J. Mollerus, K. Conwell.

Left:

OFFICERS. J. Draws, treasurer; M. DeSio, secretary; J. Kolasinski, vice-president; H. McEvilly, president.

The Library Club is mainly a school service club. Every day the librarians help many students, especially in locating magazine articles. Desk service, filing, preparing books for circulation (pasting in pockets, typing cards, etc.), and repairing books, are some of the duties that fill these students' study periods which they sacrifice in the interests of others. Monthly meetings feature instructions by Sister M. Consuelo, school librarian and club moderator, suggestions for making the library more helpful to all students, and book reviews. The club is anxious to have more freshman members.

SENIORS. Seated: R. Freytager, H. Schwab, M. J. Laskowski, P. Barry, J. Pietz, B. Kiedrowski, H. McEvilly. Standing: B. Kolanko, M. DeSio, J. Delaney, C. Gromowski.

JUNIORS. Seated: J. England, J. Ebert, C. Landkowski, C. Schueller, M. E. Peterson. Standing: J. Mollerus, J. Gromowski, J. Nowak, D. Reichling, P. Olds, K. Conwell, C. Meade, F. Berna, J. Puarieau, J. Kolasinski, K. Hagie, M. Wetzel.

THE "48" HISTORY CLUB

One of Messmer's newest clubs got its name from the year Wisconsin entered the union — 1848. In their meetings, '48'ers discussed current events, political issues, the United Nations, and similar topics. They toured the city's museums. Out-of-town activities included a trip to Madison to visit the state capitol buildings.

In the bus, ready to leave for Madison.

CHEMISTRY CLUB

A club that really bubbles (test-tubes notwithstanding) with activity and producing very tangible results is the Chemistry Club. The club's advisor, Sister M. Evelyn, has succeeded in conveying a spirit of adventure to the group. Most of the members participated either in the Wisconsin Science Fair, or in the Junior Academy of Science, or in both. Uncounted hours of watching and testing have brought members many coveted honors.

On the second Wednesday of each month the members discussed scientists, presented scientific papers, watched scientific movies. On the fourth Wednesday, a tour was planned — to the Milwaukee School of Engineering, the A. O. Smith Corporation, and other industrial places of interest.

TABB ENGLISH CLUB

At a luncheon party of the Tabb English, members impersonated literary figures or authors. This was one of the social projects which the club took as its focal point for the year. A Joel Chandler Harris Circle was formed and looked up that author's works and re-told his stories, in an attempt to recapture their charm. Their advisor, Sister M. Monica, is such a lover of nature, that she easily convinced her group that Estabrook Park was the proper setting to read nature poems.

JUNIOR AND SENIOR STUDENT COUNCIL

The real work of the Student Council rests with the ideas of the seniors and Juniors. It is they who most frequently inaugurate plans for school activities, head committees, and steer the many projects that fill the busy life of each student. Even the general cleanliness of the school and the condition of the grounds become points of business which council members relay to their homerooms. With Sister Antony Mary guiding its decisions, the council renders the school an excellent service.

SMOKING COURT

After much discussion and hurdling of negative arguments, a long-awaited privilege was finally granted Messmer boys. The smoking committee, headed by Tom Wojciechowski, first-semester school president, worked out a system of permits, behavior, and penalties. Boys may now obtain a permit to smoke on the court during their lunch period. Come snow and freezing weather, or pouring rain, or beautiful sunshine, those who puff, smoke, or "drag" are sure to be in their newest haunt, dubbed the "Plaza Room."

JUNIOR CLASS OFFICERS. Peter Burke, president; Kathleen Borse, vice-president; Judy Higgins, secretary; Ed O'Keefe, treasurer.

"BARTER"

by Urban Nagle, O.P.

March 26, 27, 28, 1955 Directed by James J. Spitz

One of the few really fine religious plays available today, this one deals with the twenty-four hours preceding the Crucifixion. Judas is shown in the terrible distress and turmoil of the betrayal. Miriam, a young Jewess, has come to know and revere Christ through Mary Magdalen. Miriam's Roman soldier, Varrus, tries to intercede with Pilate and is convicted of treason and imprisoned. When Miriam sees Christ captured and her lover imprisoned, her heart breaks, and the final climax is tragic and swift.

Louis Lehman, second-semester school treasurer, and the evidence of 100% homeroom cooperation.

FIDELIS FORENSIC CLUB

From the number of finalists the Fidelis Club sent to the Madison tournament in April, the inference unquestionably is that this has been a year of successful speech activities.

According to their coach, Sister M. Charlotte, however, we can measure the club's success also by intangible things, namely, the desire for self-improvement and growth on the part of the members, coupled with hard work and a spirit of cooperation. This year's group has measured up to that standard.

To the finals in Madison on April 16, Messmer sent the largest number in the district: six out of seven contestants. Two gold medals and four silver medals were carried off by the six finalists.

STATE CONTESTANTS. M. Kramer, L. Siegrist, gold medal; J. McManus, gold medal; E. Malphy, silver medal; J. Doolan, silver medal; J. Jung, silver medal; C. Grabner, silver medal.

OFFICERS. L. Siegrist, president; E. Malphy, secretary-treasurer; J. McManus, vice-president.

TOPS IN SPEECH

Laura Siegrist was a guest entertainer at the Army Day Banquet of the Women's Auxiliary of the G.A.R. at the Elk's Club. In an original oration, "The Other Side," Laura brought to the attention of her audience the finer things achieved by youth of today as opposed to deeds of violence by delinquents. She wound up her speech with a request to consider the Holy Father's four-fold positive program for youth.

I SPEAK FOR DEMOCRACY

Messmer was also represented in the annual "Voice of Democracy Contest," which took place at the Milwaukee Vocational School. The students pictured to the right competed with students from the city schools. Our contestants were: Lewis Lehman, Gloria Deja, Mario Carini, Rosemary Gasperetti, Eileen Malphy, and Kathleen Kirwan.

CAMERA CLUB

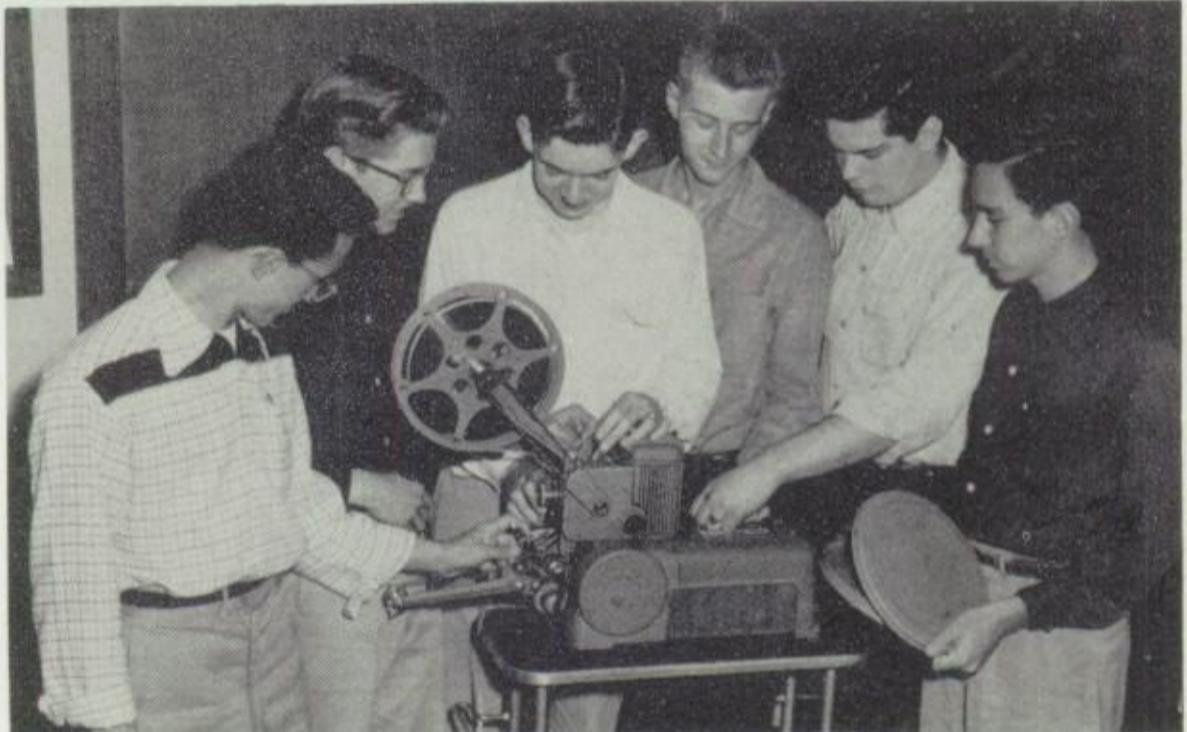

With the guidance of Sister M. Petrine, the Camera Club spends many hours developing, printing, and enlarging pictures. The group holds regular meetings once a month. Staff photographers supply the pictorial coverage of school activities for both Four-square and Capitol. The members also run the projectors for assembly movies. Some of the members have taken prizes in photographic contests, too.

CAMERA CLUB. Bob Pipp, Bill Risch, Tom Reis, Mark Scobey, Jerry Smaglick, Rick Rappl, Jim Hoffmann.

Back to front: Bill Risch, Bob Pipp, Tom Reis.

PROJECTIONISTS. Dick Capello, Ken Schaefer, Mark Scobey, Howard Holtz, Bob Wittig, John Wagner.

Unusually serious-faced, Mr. James Spitz heads for his 2:11 class.

FOURSQUARE

Every Messmerite looked forward to his monthly copy of the Foursquare. And he got it, chock-full of school-events-to-come, honors won, sports accounts, and occasionally a funny story about himself. Backed by the excellent direction of Sister M. Madeleine Sophie and the cooperation of their entire staff, the editors produced a school paper that was anticipated and cherished by everyone. A nice follow-up occurred this year by means of letters from the Principal, short sketches of the coaches, and timely editorials.

CAPITOL

"Life at Messmer in new perspective" — that is the idea behind the work of this year's annual. We have tried to recapture the high spots of the year, to present the pleasant side of school life,

to record forever this high-school year.

This is your book. We hope you like it.

SUBSCRIPTION MANAGERS. Mary Lou Theis and Carol Belstner.

The efforts of two years' work in building up the percussion section was very evident when the band opened the spring concert with a fanfare. Cornets and drums joined in a martial introduction to show their new uniforms to the audience. Band parents and the Home and School Association joined forces to finance this tremendous project. As a result, the director and every member looked resplendent in a new uniform on concert evening.

Throughout the football season, the band marched and played at games; their field formations have shown steady progress. Under the direction of Mr. Kenneth A. Wuerl, a freshman band was started this year—which did not perform as an organization but is being used to fill in positions vacated the graduates.

CHORUS

Because a dozen boys joined the chorus in the second semester, the balance of a four-part mixed chorus was greatly helped. Much class time was devoted this year to improvement of diaphragm control and tone consciousness, with tongue exercises adding a lot of fun. Almost half of the chorus was part of the 400-voice mixed chorus that sang at the Milwaukee Auditorium in the biennial Archdiocesan Music Festival in April. Next year the choristers hope to feature a boys' chorus and a special girls' group. Sister M. John Ignace is the director.

For the dedication of Messmer's outdoor Christmas Crib, choristers awaited their turn to sing a few carols. In the picture above, Father Kuehn was at the mike, Father Daleke at the extreme right.

MESSMER CHORUS. Down: E. Siefert, E. Lapas, T. Donajkowski, D. Zacharias, L. Reuter, R. Kortsch, J. Pfeifer, T. Lorsung, V. Noe, L. Sallmann, C. Aukofer, S. Piaskowski, K. Makutz, S. Sharlein, M. SCHOOL ORGANISTS. Junior Elaine Nadolny, Sophomore Mary Jeanne Kinnel, Senior Rita Schmidt.

BASEBALL SQUAD. First row: R. Chmielewski, R. Schaab, N. Corcoran, J. Weida, J. Aehl, E. Kealty, J. Zinecker, R. Capello, M. Bodovinac (Manager), T. Schramka, T. Kretlow, J. Murphy, W. Wiske, J. Barbera, R. Jung, R. Leising, D. Burg, J. Kotlewski (Manager).

BASEBALL

Ace pitching and strong defensive play seem to be the mainstay of this year's team. A solid infield has been built around veterans Jim Aehl, Gene Kealty, and Tom Schramka. An early win over St. Bonaventure's sent the team off to a good start. The other games of the fourteen scheduled provided the Bishops with plenty of action, but a complete list of scores was not available when this book went to print.

Dick Capello looks on as Gene Kealty makes the catch.

Gene Kealty attempts a bunt in the St. Bonaventure game.

Coach Bob Regent gives some timely tips to Neil Corcoran; Coach Norm Domach seems to be wondering.

GOLF

Through the efforts of Coach Dick Romanski and Father Schmit, golf was brought out into its own as a major sport. An intramural program was used to determine the team, with the pros demonstrating their skills. The hole-in-one men played eight conference matches and were entered in the state and city tournaments. Home matches were played at Brown Deer Park.
